

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

From Monday's Daily.

Andy Bisect has returned from a short visit to Tombstone.

Miss Winnie Miller returned yesterday from a visit to friends in Wilcox.

F. A. Fletcher and son, of Chicago, are registered at the Bessemer Hotel.

C. E. Fredericks, the well known tin-smith of Tombstone, is a visitor to our city.

W. H. Broome, the obliging telegraph operator, is confined to his home with an attack of cramps.

Judge Reilly, the well known attorney of Tombstone, is spending a few days in our city on legal business.

Dr. C. F. Edmundson and wife are expected home the first of next month from their trip to Iowa.

R. Castaneda, accompanied by J. Paul, of Benson, were visitors to our city yesterday.

Miss Mamie Kennedy, who recently gave an elocutionary recital here, is to give an entertainment at Clifton this week.

Wm. Kelley, the well known railroad engineer, expects to leave tomorrow for a month's visit to his old home in Everett, Washington.

Frank Armstrong and wife, and Jas. McAllister and wife, returned today from a two weeks outing in Ramsey canyon in the Huachuca, where they report having an excellent time.

When a girl pins a flower on a man's coat she always tilts her chin up and looks at it sideways—and the man who doesn't take a tumble is too slow to lead a funeral procession.

J. Avery, a prominent citizen of Nogales, is visiting our city and is looking for recruits to fill up the ranks of the Nogales militia company, which has not its full quota. Here is a chance for those who wish to go to the front.

The Fourth of July is now close at hand, and let everyone remember that a great big time is on the boards for Bisbee, and you are all invited to participate in the festivities of the day.

Denny Twoomey, a young man well known in Tombstone, and a brother of Johnny Twoomey, a resident of our city, was one member of the first contingent of troops for the Philippines. He enlisted in one of the California regiments.

The most talked about topic in Bisbee since Saturday was the engagement near Santiago de Cuba, which Tex Oan had the pleasure of giving to its readers. It was the most interesting bit of telegraphic news that has reached our city for some time, for it included a description of the doings of the Arizona contingent. Of the dead two men were from the northern part of the territory, Dougherty, of Jerome, and Corporal White, of Prescott. A report gained circulation to the effect that Lieutenant Wilcox and Sergeant Hughes had been killed, but these reports were not reliable, and so far as the list of dead and wounded have been given none of the Bisbee boys were in the list.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Miss Mamie Hanley is visiting Miss Ackers in Benson.

Bisbee this year will outdo herself in the way of a celebration.

P. B. Zeigler has returned to Tucson but will be in Bisbee again shortly.

Mrs. Kittie Bell has gone to Fairview, Pima county, where she will remain.

The Southern Pacific company is still making considerable improvements in their yards at Benson.

Mrs. James McDermott is on a visit to her old home in Canada, where she will spend the summer months.

F. W. Mead, the well known cattleman who owns the old Hagan ranch in Sonora, left last night for his home in California.

O. W. Howard has returned from a trip to the Huachuca, and will leave in a few days for a visit to his old home in Los Angeles.

Wm. Lutley returned this morning from a short visit to Tombstone, and left this evening for his ranch in the Swishelms.

James Wood, the converter man, is paying a visit to his old home in Canada. He has not seen his parents for over eighteen years.

Sheriff White was an incoming passenger from Tombstone this morning. He came over to investigate the killing of Andy Darnell. Scott is always alert to do his duty, and although the present case does not need the officer's work he has made an excellent record for the sheriff's office this term, and the county can find no better man for the next two years than his present incumbent.

The New York Herald of the 23d says: "The action brought by John Eley against B. C. Davis, who charged Davis with selling him worthless mining stock, was dismissed yesterday by Magistrate Braun, who said that the case never ought to have been into court." Mr. Davis is president of the Copper King, at this place, whose arrest caused much unsavory comment in mining circles.

Lieut. Tapes, at present in command of Fort Whipple, today received telegraphic instructions from Washington, to prepare the barracks for receiving the volunteers issued under the second call by the president, says the Prescott Journal-Miner. Under this call a western regiment of infantry is given to Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Arizona's quota is three companies, or 318 men; New Mexico, 424 men, while Oklahoma will raise the remainder of the regiment. Arizona is authorized to name the colonel of the new regiment, and it will undoubtedly be Governor McCord. Lieut. Tapes also states that Whipple will be the point to concentrate the Arizona and New Mexico infantrymen, and that no arms or accoutrements will be issued here, his instructions being to shelter and feed the soldiers only. He is very busy arranging the barracks today for the reception of the volunteers.

The Fourth of July committee held a meeting last night and everything is running smoothly and a grand celebration is assured. The amount of money collected is something over $1,000 thereby insuring a most glorious time. The fireworks have arrived and this year there will be a much better display than last. Let everybody put their shoulder to the wheel and show outside people what Bisbee can do in giving a royal celebration.

According to the latest advices of the wounded in the late battle at Santiago, we find the name of Tom Wiggins, of company B. Wiggins was one of the Bisbee volunteers and acted as their color bearer upon their departure from Bisbee. He was employed at the smelter and was a very steady and industrious young man. His many friends here sincerely hope his wounds will not prove fatal, and that he will soon be able to join with his command again.

The Arizona and South Eastern Railroad company is sinking an artesian well at the Hasselgren place on the river, to be used in filling their water tanks at that place. The well is now down to a depth of about fifty feet and a small amount of water has already been struck but not sufficient for the supply needed. A sandstone formation was struck by the drill yesterday and it is thought when the drill has forced its way through this strata, a sufficient supply will be obtained.

Joe Martinella, who has been rusticated in the Sulphur Spring valley for several days, returned home last evening, bearing visible evidence that he profited by the cruise. While out he was attacked and bitten on the lower limb by a scorpion, the venomous reptile dying for its poor judgment. Joe says he visited the county seat, and while there requested a saloon keeper to call in every man in town, as he wanted to set 'em up; the treat amounted to only $1.

The Masonic fraternity of Bisbee has been made the recipient of a handsome and costly Everett pipe-organ, the donors being Arthur E. James, Cleveland H. Dodge and James McLean, all of whom are connected with the Copper Queen company, and reside in New York city, from whence the appreciated present arrived yesterday. The instrument has been placed in the alcove of the Masonic temple; an electric motor is to be attached to the organ to furnish power for the bellows, when heavenly strains will burst forth in melodious consonance with the grand organ that has been thus kindly remembered by gentlemen whose names will ever be held in esteem by grateful recipients.

The volunteers who left Bisbee last Saturday evening for Tucson, are encamped at the old pueblo, as will be seen from the following article clipped from the Star: "Tents were pitched on Sunday on the Samaniego place, just south of the Eagle mills. Thirty-six men from Bisbee, miners who gave up jobs, came in early and are in camp, making a total of sixty-four. There is a shortage of arms. Captain Henry Gray is tented and carries on affairs in true military style. He had encouraging news from Phoenix yesterday and expects more in the mail. The boys have been taking coffee and crackers at reveille, 5 a. m., a good meal at 9 and again at 5 o'clock. The principal diet is beans, bread, bacon, potatoes and coffee. Drills are in order, and last night the new men went to the plaza to show off in that line. Up to date several donations in grub and cash have been made. Judge Barnes provided six tents. Blankets are needed very much. The officers have paid considerable out of their own pockets. The personnel of the company is good, and with old members will show up over one hundred men. They are anxious to move."

From Wednesday's Daily.

There are only four patients in the company hospital.

There are three typhoid fever patients in the city at present.

District Attorney English and Sheriff White returned to the county seat last evening.

So far the thermometer has reached only ninety-six degrees in the shade. How about Phoenix?

N. Metz and daughter left today for Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they will locate.

Much steady development work is being done on many claims in the various mountain ranges of Cochise county, of which the public hears but little. If an accurate census could be taken of the number of men engaged in mining in the county, the result would be surprising.

A. Miller, the well-known photographer, returned today from a trip to Nogales and Guaymas.

The residence of John Heaton, in Tombstone canyon, is about completed and the family will shortly move into it.

J. H. Lee, better known as "Kid" Lee, returned this morning from Los Angeles, where he has been for some time.

The fireworks for the celebration have arrived, and this year will be by far the best pyrotechnic display ever seen in Bisbee.

Twenty-two prisoners are now confined in the county jail, most of whom are held to await the action of the November grand jury.

The numerous cowboys who have been in town as witnesses before the coroner's jury, returned to the Sulphur Spring valley today.

The crowd of strangers that will visit Bisbee on the Fourth of July promises to be large. The committee should begin to hustle and see that satisfactory entertainment is provided for all.

The coroner's jury in the case of the killing of A. J. Darnell brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide. Frank Johnston was released from custody and has returned to his duties in the valley.

Stringent means should be taken either by the local authorities or the railroad company to stop the small boys from jumping on and off the trains. Parents should caution their children and keep them away from the railroad yards, or some day they will have some of their young offspring brought home bleeding and mangled, caused from slipping off the cars.

Two sixty-foot flag-poles were received yesterday from Oregon, one of which will occupy a position on Castle Hill in the yard of S. W. Clawson, taking the place of the one blown down by the heavy winds; the other is the property of Otto Geisenhofer, and will be erected in front of the Waldorf restaurant. Actions of this kind speak louder than words, showing with what reverence these gentlemen regard Old Glory; placing it high above ground, not to keep it from harm's way, for none dare trample it under foot, but waving above our heads it is symbolical of the greatest nation of the earth, inspiring men to patriotism, who, while they are prospering beneath its folds, are ever ready to lay down their all and sacrifice life in its defense. Bisbee patriots will feel grateful toward these two gentlemen for thus honoring the flag, the camp and themselves.

Owing to lack of space in this issue the list of the pupils in the lower grade could not be published, but will appear in tomorrow's issue.

The Atlanta Constitution tells of a somewhat reckless youth who had enlisted for the war and had spent his time in camp in writing home for money. Finally he sent this telegram as a "clinch": "Father: Leg shot off in sham battle; send all the funds you can." To this the old man replied: "Son: Don't know your number, but wooden leg goes to you by express. If it don't fit, get camp carpenter to plane it. Best love; all well here."

PATRIOTIC BISBEE.

How the Fighting Continent Left Home.

Patriotism in Bisbee, as elsewhere in Arizona, is uppermost in the hearts of men, women and children; loving wives, doting mothers, constant sweethearts and obedient youth vie with one another that the peril of the country must be protected, and while they cannot participate in person, they do more than those who go to the front to maintain the honor of a nation. Were it not for those who shed tears at his departure the soldier would not have aught to battle for; it is for the preservation of home, of honor, and the maintenance of a government which guarantees freedom of speech and immunity from the rule of tyrants, a government while prosperous in itself does not fail to take cognizance of a wrong and stay the hand of the despot, that impels the father, brother and lover to do battle and the dear ones left behind to give hearty acquiescence. It is pleasant to reflect that we live under an ideal form of government, one whose workings make of every man, woman and child a patriot, at whose bugle-sound millions desert their daily vocations, kiss their hurried good-bye, shoulder their muskets and defy the world.

The above has been suggested by the culmination of the last fortnight's excitement in Bisbee consequent upon the enlisting of men for the new regiment promised to be led by Governor McCord. The excitement went to fever heat, so impatiently did the public await the order to muster in, until finally upon last Thursday Lieutenant Hart, recruiting officer, arrived and enlisted applicants up to noon Saturday. There was no endeavor on the part of the officer to induce anyone to enlist, but on the contrary, he was very careful to not allow those who had not yet arrived at the age of maturity to respond to their country's call, as there were older ones, and to spare, who crowded their way before the examining board and submitted to a most rigid physical examination; men strong of limb and perfect in health emerged from the ordeal pale and haggard, fearful lest the examining physician might have discovered some defect, unknown to the applicant, that would consign him to remain at home. Patriotism could not be made more apparent. Out of a multitude of applicants who were examined forty-five only were deemed physically able to withstand the vicissitudes of war and the rigors of the tropics. The following names compose the patriots who make sacrifices that their country's demands may be acceded to; but it is no reflection on those who were rejected, for their intentions are as worthy and as much entitled to commendation as though they were actively engaged:

Allen, C. E.	Butler, Elery
Duley, Fred	Engler, John
Erstad, Severan	Fagan, Joe
Foley, Pete	Gunnels, W. N.
Hunt, James	Jennings, Harry
Jeleniewski, Leo	Jones, Tom
Kock, Leonard	Kennedy, Ed
Lang, Harry	Little, John
Loomis, Ira	May, A. L.
Maxon, Chas. R.	McCachren, J.
McCurdy, H. E.	McCarthy, Ed
Muller, Wm.	Pattock, Otis
Seaman, Ed	Samaland, Herman
Schroder, Chas	Thorpe, J
Trimmer, Wm.	Van Vleet, C.
Vail, Wm.	Ward, W. H.
Watson, S. B.	Webb, Ed.
Will, Chas. H.	Welch, Dave.

The above is not a complete list of those accepted, some eight or ten having remained in Bisbee to straighten up some business affairs, while the those mentioned have gone into camp at Tucson, where they will await the perfection of the regiment.

The departure last Saturday evening of the Bisbee boys imparted to the camp a scene never before witnessed here, and one which will not be excelled by number or patriotic ardor in Arizona; so close had their departure been looked forward to that almost the entire camp met at the depot to bid them God speed, more noticeable among whom were the matrons and young ladies, who, while dispensing souvenirs of esteem and bestowing smiles of approval upon a worthy mission were compensated in part by real big man tears, shed by horny-handed yeomen who know not what fear is; and if any there may be who have mothers and sisters in other climes, the Bisbee parting is an assurance that there is no love like a woman's, and their relatives will doubtless receive letters in commendation of the Bisbee ladies. While all the ladies are held in high esteem for their patriotic instincts, Tex Oan cannot refrain from making special mention of Mrs. Ed Barker, who made the hearts of the bronzed warriors palpitate with emotion while she pinned bouquets upon their manly breasts and spoke words of encouragement and approval, causing dew-drops to trickle down honest faces which mirror assurances that the whole duty will be performed.

While the Bisbee band discoursed appropriate music, causing many to wish they were young again, giving the town the appearance of a Fourth of July celebration, enthusing the public to a patriotic pitch seldom seen, it remained for "Don" Louis Williams to inspire the crowd with the gravity of the situation, who, in well-chosen language delivered an appropriate address. Being a favorite of the camp, his remarks were listened to attentively, and, happily for "Don" Louie, he was at his best, treating the subject in a manner that evinced sincerity, elicited applause and much favorable comment.

Amid handshaking and good wishes freely expressed the braves boarded the train for Tucson; the engine tooted, "all aboard" was sounded, and while the train wended its way around the mountain the various whistles of the Copper Queen Company did their utmost as if to lend enthusiasm to the departure, men cheered to the echo, women waived their handkerchiefs and wept. Thus, amid this confusion, commingled with regret, joy and patriotism, Bisbee sent forth her second installment of volunteers to do honor to the stars and stripes, all of whom will render a good accounting when they return; God grant they may be permitted to do so.

And it came to pass, says an exchange, that after he had advertised his goods, there came unto him great multitudes from all the region round about and did buy of him. And when his competitors saw they marvelled among themselves saying: "How be it that this man is busy all the day long while we loaf about our doors?" And he spake unto them, saying: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, in this fast age of push and hustle, it is easier for a camel to enter the eye of a needle than for a man to flourish without advertising."

He asked her if he might kiss her Dewey lips, and she replied that he was as strong as Sampson and she but a weak girl without the power to successfully resist him, and then the Schley young thing assumed a defenseless attitude, and, "Evens, the nautical cuss took advantage of her helplessness and kissed her once for every star on the Union Jack. And the next day another naval engagement was told of in the papers.

A. J. Darnell Killed.

From Monday's Daily.

Frank Johnston, the well known cowboy of the Erie Cattle company, accompanied by his brother, rode into town this afternoon and gave himself up to the authorities, stating that he had killed Andy Darnell at the 7UP ranch in Swishelm mountains, about twelve miles north of Mud Springs. Tex Oan reporter Mr. Johnston gave the following facts concerning the homicide:

Yesterday afternoon as he was hitching up a team of bronchs, Darnell came up to him and commenced to abuse him, calling him all sorts of names, at the same time flourishing his six-shooter threatening to kill Johnston. Frank being unarmed could not help himself. This morning about eight o'clock Darnell hunted Johnston up—they were both working at the ranch—and started to pull his gun from his belt, saying he would kill Johnston. Frank being about five steps away immediately pulled his gun and began to shoot, Darnell falling at the first shot. Johnston immediately saddled his horse and came to town, as stated above. He was released on his own recognition, until the coroner's jury renders its verdict.

Coroner Williams and an officer left about four o'clock for the scene of the shooting and will return tomorrow.

Darnell was quite well known in this city, having raised considerable disturbance last Fourth of July by shooting at C. A. Overlock at the last steer tying contest, and afterward shooting up the town and defying the officers to arrest him.

Frank Johnston is well and favorably known, and has always borne a good reputation. He was recently married in this city to Miss Josie Morgan. The Oan joins with his many friends in hoping that he will soon be cleared from the affair.
